

CONTRACT SERVICES

Stahli offers its customers all over the USA state-of-the-art subcontract services from individual parts to high volume quantities

When it's not feasible to purchase a machine, Stahli USA offers subcontracting services throughout our five workshops located in North America, Switzerland and Germany.

Stahli started in the lapping, polishing and subcontracting business and we continue that tradition today. Your product will be processed in the same manner and on the same machines that are used in the field. Our craftsmanship goes above and beyond all standards; all of our lapping and grinding experts are seasoned professionals with years dedicated to honing their skills.

If we can't do it nobody can. When you need subcontracting, turn to the true expert in subcontracting services, turn to Stahli USA.
